As part of the public comment opportunity, let me add the following:

I believe that this is a frivolous lawsuit and welfare for the states. It is white collar robbery for the most part. I am an experienced computer user and webmaster. I have not been damaged in any way by Microsoft's actions and I find that there are sufficient alternatives to Microsoft application programs so that I am not required to use Microsoft software if I don't choose to.

Thanks for the opportunity to express my views.

Sincerely,
